

Migration Cluster and Division of Research & Graduate Studies,
Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences
National University of Singapore (Singapore) and
St John's College, Department of Geography and Metropolis British Columbia
University of British Columbia (Vancouver, Canada) present

APWIM IV

Asia-Pacific Worlds in Motion

FIXITIES & fluidities

Navigating Dynamics in Migration

An Interdisciplinary Graduate Conference
20-21 February 2012 Singapore

Asia-Pacific Worlds in Motion, now on its fourth year, is a graduate conference on regional and global Asia-Pacific migrations, organized by the National University of Singapore and the University of British Columbia. This year's theme foregrounds the interlocking dynamics of fixities and fluidities in migration today, from a range of social, cultural, political, and economic perspectives.

CALL FOR PAPERS

We welcome original theoretical and empirical work on, but not limited to:

Identities gender, race, ethnicity, class, and 'difference'; citizenship, multiculturalism, cosmopolitanism; belonging and integration; intergenerationality, children, and youth.

Mobilities labour and work; social mobility, capital accumulation, and mobility projects; development and migration policy; mobility/immobility.

Connectivities cities, diversity, transnational urbanism; cross-border (dis)connections, networks, and kinship ties; grassroots politics and social movements; diaspora and transnational communities.

PLENARY SPEAKERS

Prof. Adrian Bailey Hong Kong Baptist University and University of Leeds

Prof. Daniel Hiebert University of British Columbia

Prof. Rhacel Salazar Parreñas University of Southern California

Submission Deadline 25 October 2011

Submission Details at asiapacificworldsinmotion.wordpress.com

Email apwim4@gmail.com for queries